

Zach Hawkins Hawkins Family Farm

Zach Hawkins and his father, Jeff, are the 3rd & 4th generation farmers at Hawkins Family Farm in Wabash County, Indiana. They harvest a wide variety of vegetables and herbs all year, and raise cattle, pigs, chickens, and turkeys on the farm pasture. They host pizza nights when families can picnic and enjoy wood-fired pizza with ingredients from the farm.

HAWKINS FAMILY FARM

WHAT THEY GROW & RAISE:

We grow a variety of salad greens (like lettuce and spinach), root crops (like carrots and radishes), potatoes, and cabbage family crops (like Napa cabbage and bok choy)

FAVORITE FARM BUG:

Fireflies--the whole farm shimmers on warm summer evenings.

FAVORITE CROP TO GROW:

Cover crops that keep our soil healthy.

FAVORITE FRUITS & VEGGIES:

Whatever is in season!

IF HE COULD HAVE ONE SUPERPOWER AS A FARMER:

Super strength. Somedays it feels like farming is just moving heavy things from one place to another.
